Detroit — MorningSide has been blessed in recent weeks with several volunteer efforts to clean up and green up our community. For the annual Motor City Makeover, we chose to hold our major clean-up project on Saturday, May 20 at the Motor City Grounds Crew campus on Barham St. Nearly 20 residents joined staff from Featherstone Gardens to build up the planting beds with many wheelbarrows full of mulch and compost, along with some serious weed removal.

Volunteers from the Well Initiative Women's Association, MorningSide board members Twiana, Nic, Eric and Alex and neighbors Denise R. from Courville, Delores M. from Three Mile, John W. from Whittier, and Allyce H. (with son CJ) from Courville were among those who beautified the new vegetable gardens.

Detroit Celebrates Juneteenth

The Morningsider

Detroit recently joined the growing number of cities making June 19 a paid holiday for city workers. Juneteenth marks the day in 1865 when federal troops marched into Galveston, Texas to enforce the Emancipation Proclamation that President Abraham Lincoln had signed two years before, freeing the last enslaved African Americans. Juneteenth was made a federal holiday in 2021.

Our own Eastside Community Network is one of many organizations throughout the metro Detroit area celebrating Juneteenth with a variety of events. ECN's activities will take place on June 17. Click here to see a full schedule of other celebrations around town throughout the month.

East Warren Streetscape Taking Shape

It was exciting to see trees being planted on the south side of E. Warren this week, giving us a clearer vision of what the beautiful finished corridor will look like. Planting of trees on the north side of the street will begin later this month.

We've been told that traffic lanes will be restored to normal by the middle of the month. Concrete and electrical work are continuing at the Courville Plaza. See the renderings to get a better idea of what it will look like when completed, as well as its multiple uses.

And don't worry, weeds will be removed soon from the planting beds. Plants will be installed when we're not dealing with drought conditions.

TALK TO US!

Letter to the Editor

One of our goals is to make The Morningsider more interactive and resident-driven. To that end, we invite you to send us your ideas and opinions – what do you like about the newsletter, what should we be paying more attention to, what pressing issues are Detroiters facing? Please keep your communications brief - about 200 words - and respectful in tone. Send your comments to morningsidecommunity2@gmail.com. Letters, edited as necessary for space and clarity, will be published each month.

At the same time, a work brigade from the Motor City Grounds Crew under the direction of Aaron Smith did an amazing job of removing illegal dump sites in the western section of MorningSide. The MCGC crew tackled a total of 19 different dumping locations with their “grapple” truck, removing over 60 cubic yards of trash. That’s enough to fill two standard-sized dumpsters! Thank you Aaron!!

Two Saturdays earlier on May 6, an amazing crew of staff and volunteers from The Greening of Detroit hit the streets of MorningSide to plant 50+ new trees, mostly along Cornwall, Haverhill, Nottingham, and Buckingham streets. Board member Charon Noguees served as primary liaison to the Greening staff, led by Christina Ridella who grew up here in the neighborhood. Gary Gray and yours truly were among local residents assisting in the tree planting. This marks the second consecutive year that Greening has blessed our community with a large tree planting project.

Most recently, a contingent of ~50 volunteers from Rocket Community Fund, under the leadership of Habitat for Humanity Detroit, came out on June 6 to beautify the Emerald Gardens site on Haverhill. A new privacy fence, a water catchment system and three new benches are among the improvements built by these hard-working folks.

Large and highly visible projects such as these will hopefully inspire each of us to clean up and green up our own house and block. Beautification is the antidote to blight, and is equally if not more contagious. Let’s keep up the momentum by improving our public spaces while at the same time reporting negative activity like illegal dumpers.

"Curb Appeal"

Susan Newell | The Morningsider

In the 34 years that Gail Chappell and her husband have made Morningside their home, her yard on Buckingham has been a source of pride and joy. "I love beauty," she says. "I represent a higher God, and He expects the best...If people would all have that mind set, it would be beautiful."

When her children were young, working in the yard was a family affair. Now they've grown up and gone their own way, but she still enjoys creating a beautiful yard.

Gardening has been a source of comfort for Gail as well. "When tragedy strikes, this is my go-to." When she lost her father years ago, taking care of the yard – and prayer – gave her peace of mind, she says.

She's also given her neighbors a fine example of community pride. Thank you, Gail!

MEC Radio Patrol – Helping the Police Help Us Stay Safe

Judy Roth | Contributing Writer

The Citizens Radio Patrol Program is one of Detroit’s best success stories. Through a partnership with the Detroit Police Department, our radio patrol groups have been engaged in crime prevention efforts since 1967. Criminals are not in the business of working harder; they are looking to avoid being observed, to avoid contact, and to avoid getting caught.

Our MEC Neighborhood Radio Patrol has been patrolling Morningside, East English Village, and Cornerstone Village since 1976. We are seeking interested, committed volunteers. Increasing the presence of our citizen patrollers shows would-be criminals that the community refuses to let crime run rampant.

Volunteering with the patrol does not require a large amount of time. Even an hour or two once or twice a month are helpful. It can actually be fun to learn what is going on in the different neighborhoods.

Each applicant must complete a Volunteer Application and pass a Detroit Police Department Criminal Background Check. Once cleared you are eligible to become a Base Operator, a Driver, or an Observer, who rides along with a Driver looking out for issues in the neighborhood and recording them on an Activity Sheet. The Observer will handle location checks with Base Operator on our Police Radios. Patrol Drivers are reimbursed for mileage (65.5) cents a mile.

If you prefer working from home, we also need Base Radio Operators. It requires you to stay in contact with the Observer and Driver while they are patrolling, as well as our 5th Precinct Department. Suspicious activities and crimes are reported to the Base Operator, who then relays this information to the 5th Precinct. If it's an emergency, the Observer directly calls 911 with the information. So, if you like being able to stay at home, this could be your patrol position.

Continued... MEC Radio Patrol – Helping the Police Help Us Stay Safe

Patrols require two members to be in the vehicle. They always remain in the vehicle except to possibly perform "Good Samaritan Acts". No weapons of any kind can be carried while on patrol, even if the volunteer has a CCW.

Patrollers are not to engage in high-speed chases. Crime and serious situations must be reported immediately to the Base Operator for relay to the Police, or if in an emergency, dial 911. Also, patrollers should never confront individuals or put themselves in harm's way. That job is for our Police Department to handle. Our role is to watch over the neighborhoods looking for suspicious activities, illegal dumping, abandoned vehicles and boats, unsecured vacant houses, and such.

Training will be provided. Each new volunteer is required to do at least three ride-alongs with other patrollers. You are trained to look out for specific warning signs while out on patrol. These would include unsecured homes with open doors, broken windows, ladders leaning against buildings, persons following mail or newspaper carriers, loitering individuals, burglar alarms triggered, and vehicles slowly driving up and down alleys, to name a few.

Our area is covered by the 5th Precinct, 3500 Conner, Detroit, MI 48215 - (313) 596-5500. Our patrol officers are always great to work with, and our NPO Officers are awesome and very hardworking.
